The yearly IncredibleEurope Summit in Vienna is just a highlight of the year-long campaign working for Europe's innovation and creativity.

And it's all about our ability to tackle our own prejudice and mindset and start thinking beyond-the-box. Many of the initiatives and projects presented at IncredibleEurope are unconventional and different. But they're distinctly innovative and creative by the fact that their authors, to quote the great European genius Leonardo da Vinci, "did not let themselves be constrained by any known universe". Rather than asking "why", the IncredibleEurope community asks - "why not"? In and beyond crisis, no product of human genius and effort is too good to be believed - in our vision of Europe, incredible is doable. Today.
